Subject: Draft sediment language

Hey gang,

Below is the draft working language for sediment today. I have not seen a draft press release from the local/state yet. The plan is our language will go into their joint press release. All will need to be approved here and at the EOC. Below you'll find Plan A and Plan B. With the announcement at noon, I am working on plan B, which means it's unlikely we have validated data to post online in conjunction with the release. It would be really helpful to get this in the right place so we only have to worry about the larger press release for approval.

Thanks!

Melissa
